See back page for more details.
As a minimum every workplace should have an occupational First Aid box or kit.

HSA is the legal standard for Ireland.

Beware, British HSE kits do not comply with Irish regulations.

Employees working away from employer’s premises.
Where employees regularly work away from the employer’s premises and there are no special hazards or problems of isolation, no first aid materials/equipment need be provided by the employer.
Where such work involves the use of dangerous tools or substances (e.g. agricultural and forestry work, electricity, gas, water and telecommunications services, transport of hazardous articles and substances etc.) The Travel Kit specified in the table should be provided along with any special materials/equipment or antidotes as appropriate.

As a minimum every workplace should have an occupational First Aid box or kit. The following table gives a broad indication of the type of first aid materials/equipment and supplies which would be reasonable in different circumstances.

Guidelines on First Aid at Places of Work

Health & Safety Authority (HSA)

Different work activities involve different hazards and therefore different first aid provision is required. Some places of work (e.g. offices, libraries etc.) have relatively low hazards whereas others (e.g. factories and construction work etc.) often have a greater degree of hazard or specific hazard involved. Requirements for first aid provision at work will therefore depend on several factors including the size of the workplace, the numbers employed, the hazards arising, access to medical services, dispersal of employees, employees working away from their employer’s premises, workers in isolated locations etc.

RECOMMENDED OPTIONAL EXTRAS

* Where more than 50 persons are employed, pro-rata provision should be made.
 Where mains tap water is not readily available for eye irrigation, sterile water or sterile normal saline (0.9%) in sealed disposable containers should be provided. Each container should hold at least 20ml and should be discarded once the seal is broken. Eye bath/eye cups/refillable containers should not be used for eye irrigation due to risk of cross infection. The container should be CE marked.
 Where mains tap water is not readily available for cooling burnt area.

Regulatory First Aid Kits
HSA Workplace and Travel

HSA - a legal standard for Ireland.
Beware, British HSE kits do not comply with Irish regulations.

As a minimum, every workplace should have an occupational First Aid Box or Kit. All our Workplace kits are HSA compliant.

All HSA Workplace Catering and Travel kits are available in stylish colour coded boxes, with integrated brackets or bags.

HSA 2 and 3 Workplace kits can also be purchased in an extra-durable, wall mountable cabinet.

See page 2 for extended HSA guidelines and a full list of recommended contents.

Established in 1988, Emergency Care is one of Ireland’s most trusted sales and service providers, to the pre-hospital and first aid markets.

All Blue, HSA Catering Kits are designed specifically for use in busy kitchens and all catering environments. Contents are blue, making it a true blue catering kit.

ALL BLUE HSA CATERING KITS

It is an offence to contaminate food. The only way to save yourself from prosecution is to prove due diligence. HSA Catering Kits have been specifically designed with All Blue contents, this proves that every reasonable precaution to prevent food contamination has been taken.

Q. Which soup contains a first aid dressing?

A. Both.

For many years it has been a legal requirement to use only Blue Detectable plasters in food preparation areas. Our kits go above and beyond this requirement by providing you for the first time with a kit where every single product, even the dressings and wipes, are Blue.

With one of our All Blue Catering Kits in your workplace, there is no better way to demonstrate to the authorities that you are taking your responsibilities seriously.

See pages 6 and 8 for HSA recommended optional extras.

CoolTherm™ provides fast, immediate relief for burns in an emergency.

CoolTherm™ soothes the burn, cools the heat, eases the pain, stops the burn progressing, and protects against contamination.

CoolTherm™ utilises a specially formulated cooling gel, combined with medical grade non-adherent, non-woven pads, that will not stick to the wound.

CoolTherm™ dressings are sterile, ensuring a safe, uncontaminated atmosphere for the emergency treatment of burns.

NEW Innovative Glove Design

- Non-woven, gel based, sterile carrier dressing.
- Conformable to enable treatment of the entire burn.
- Benchmarked to the accepted industry standard, with over 20 years safe use.
- 5 years shelf life.
- Manufactured in a Pharmaceutical Factory to meticulous standards.

Created by professionals, for professionals, the Emergency CoolTherm™ Burn Kit is an invaluable tool in any first responders’ armoury.

Established in 1988, Emergency Care is one of Ireland’s most trusted sales and service providers, to the pre-hospital and first aid markets.

Automated External Defibrillator (AED)
Less than 8% of people who suffer cardiac arrest outside the hospital survive. But survival rates as close as 50% have been achieved where automated external defibrillator (AED) programs have been successfully put in place. Survival rates can rise further when the person is treated within the first three minutes of cardiac arrest.

When sudden cardiac arrest strikes, time is critical. Although it’s vital to call 112 or 999 and provide CPR, it is not enough. The single most effective treatment for SCA is defibrillation. That’s why early defibrillation programs, with development of automated external defibrillators (AEDs) and people trained in CPR/AED use is so important.

The provision of automated external defibrillators (AEDs) in workplaces and public places, to assist in the prevention of sudden cardiac death should be considered. Early defibrillation using an AED is one of the vital links in the “Chain of Survival”. Ideally, wherever there is an occupational first aider(s) in a workplace, provision of an AED should be considered.

Employees that are not first-aiders should also be encouraged to participate in AED training.

Outdoor AED Storage Cabinet

Realistic to the eye and the touch, the Prestan manikin is unlike any other on the market. Prestan manikins can be purchased individually or in convenient multi-packs of four for class training purposes. Prestan manikins are uniquely designed as a clamshell, that accommodates an easy to insert face shield lung bag.

Prestan’s revolutionary new CPR rate monitor allows for instant feedback to both instructor and student regarding the rate of chest compression. This allows each student to gauge their rate of compressions on their own as well as allowing the instructor to monitor several students quickly and easily. Also with the patented face/head tilt, the Prestan manikin incorporates a mechanism to help students use the appropriate force to compress the chest to the correct depth.

Compression Rate Monitor
- Red light: 1 to 59 compressions per minute
- Yellow light: 60 to fewer than 79 compressions per minute
- One green light: 80 to 99 compressions per minute
- Two green lights: 100 compressions per minute

Audible Clicker
In addition to the visual rate monitor, students will also hear a clicking sound as a chest is pushed to the appropriate depth allowing them to experience the true force needed to deliver real life chest compressions.

Training Courses

As one of Ireland’s leading pre-hospital and safety training companies, Emergency Care is committed to assisting you in the development of a safe and legislatively compliant workplace.

Through our affiliations to PHECC, The Irish Heart Foundation and OFAAA, we provide recognised and certified pre-hospital qualifications.

Whether you choose to train a group at your location, or send an individual to one of our public courses, you can be confident that your staff will receive effective and engaging training to current standards. We can tailor courses or indeed develop new programmes to meet the requirements of your workplace.

All our instructors are specially chosen for their practical experience in their own specialist field. By utilising the latest teaching technology and innovative techniques, our team will provide an interactive, informed and positive learning experience in a relaxed atmosphere. We work with a panel of instructors and can generally meet any date that suits your team - 7 days a week!
